5. If you received permission to use an external library, include a list of all libraries you used as part of your submission. Note that you should also include citations in your code as comments for any place where you used an external library call. Not doing so may lead to an academic offence.

- No external libraries were used in Fretboard Visualizer in fretboard.js
- Tonal.JS was used in exampleScript.js for the Web app examples. It gives notes for scales, their frequencies, etc.

6. The commit hash of the git commit from your GitHub repo that you want us to grade. You can find this by running git log in the terminal, or on the GitHub site itself.
